

Trees of Green, Red Roses Too-LISTENING COMPANION 7: “What a Wonderful World” (76- 79)

Trees of Green, Red Roses Too & Counting the Blessings

- Earth inspired music
 - “What a Wonderful World”[kind of obscure]
- Louis Armstrong(1901-1971)
 - “What a Wonderful World” was written for him & was first sung by him
 - Disadvantaged
 - Broke away from a band

Counting the Blessings (part 2)

- Armstrong stars in Jazz
 - “Repressive governments found jazz, with its emphasis on ‘free expression of the individual,’ to be deeply threatening.”
 - Celebrated for his expression
- Hard to make the song happen
 - Disruptions occurred constantly
 - Larry Newton refused to promote the song
 - Spread everywhere

I thank you for